2019 Crop Conference

Learn from experts from Indiana and Illinois about the most pressing topics facing farmers.

Topics of this year’s conference will include:

Field Crop Disease Update
  Darcy Telenko, Purdue Field Crop Pathology Specialist
Looking Ahead to Next Year’s Corn Crop
  Bob Nielsen, Purdue Corn Specialist
2019 Weed Management Update
  Bill Johnson, Purdue Weed Science Specialist
US Crop Outlook
  Todd Hubbs, Illinois Extension Ag Economist

December 6th
8:30 - 9 am Registration
9 am - 2:00 pm
Lunch included with registration fee
Eastern Standard Time

Beef House Restaurant
Covington, IN

Registration Fee: $25
(Payable at the door or online)

Register by Noon on Nov. 27 by calling 765.884.0140
or online at https://go.illinois.edu/CropsConf

Educational credits for Indiana Private Applicators, Certified Crop Advisors, and Indiana Commercial Applicators have been applied for and will be available for an additional $10.

University of Illinois Extension/Purdue Cooperative Extension Service-USDA-Local Councils Cooperating
U of I Extension & Purdue Extension provide equal opportunities in programs and employment. If you need a reasonable accommodation to attend this program, contact your local Extension office.